Know that society is made-up of three constituents: the Manipulator, the Earner and the Manipulated. The Manipulator cannot be a large fraction of society. It is a section that is adapt at exploiting and scheming, at planning and at enjoying at the cost of others. This is the genuine parasitic class. The Manipulated is ...Bechaaraa. The manipulated serves as a media. This class cannot do anything about its plight. ...In fact, it does not know anything about its surrounding ...it is incapable and unqualified even to understand its status ...and it is a large section of the society. The Earner section comprises of the Experience Based Earner Class and the Learned Class. This once again, is a small section of society. The Experience Based Earner class manages its world more practically than the Learned Class. The Learning Based Earner depends on the system and his internal strength is in behaving in the copybook manner.

The society remains balanced by co existence of these three classes. In all continuing civilizations, the manipulator tends to win over the Learned. The Learned remains consumed in systems and rulings while the manipulator keeps inventing newer tools for his use. What if the system starts getting manipulated?

What is the role of the Learned Class?

What learning is all about?

Remember, you belong to this special class of the earner, who is learned. Theoretically ...academically you are actuating in the world within the scope of your education. Ad'dhyaatm interfaces effectively in such scenarios.

The manipulator and the exploiter must take away all that is godly. The Bechaaraa ...must get manipulated and exploited. When the Ad'dhyaatm is on the 'in-total-positive mode', the Experience Based Earner must mend his means in futile attempts and wade off. You, the Learned Earner, must utilize your learning, your academics. ...That is how the world moves ...That is what Gati is ...That is what life is ...That is the beginning of Journey beyond Love...

That Ad'dhyaatm which does not take the responsibility of ejecting you from stagnation is a pseudo.

In the final chapter, the instated professional undertakes his Journey beyond Love...
